More President-Obama-Inspired Artwork

JANUARY 20, 2009 AT 4:00 PM by Cafe Sheri - Comments (2)

"Changing States" by Benjamin Shine

Speaking of Obama-inspired art, check out this lovely fabric portrait of our new President by British artist Benjamin Shine.

Using the material of a retired cotton American flag woven through mesh fabric, Shine created this beautiful portrait of President Obama entitled "Changing States." The piece will be on display in the Museum of Arts and Design in New York through January.

+++ I'm pretty amazed by the craftsmanship here. Politics aside, what do you think of Shine's work of art?
