

In Pictures: London's Elephant Parade

THE Elephant Parade has begun in London. There are over 260 model baby elephants in central London as part of the Elephant Parade, each one decorated by an artist or celebrity. Gordon Brown's made huge white elephant called 'ID'. In July, the elephants will be sold off to raise money for flesh-and-blood elephants. The real elephants will get the cash and set up a political movement to seize control.

← Back

Picture 4 of 13

Next ▶

← Back

Picture 4 of 13

Next ▶

Painted elephants in Trafalgar Square in central London, at the launch of the London Elephant Parade 2010, which will see the capital taken over by 260 life-size baby elephants decorated by various established and up and coming artists.

Search

Go

A LATEST STORIES

Cheryl Cole's Lips Gloss And Go: Pictures

Election In Photos: Manish Sood Damns Gordon Brown And Other Tactics

Sarah Ferguson Will Run The London Marathon Like Icon Daughter Beatrice

In Pictures: London's Elephant Parade

Jedward's Shake 'n' Vac Advert: Pictures, Video And Meow Meow

Tiges Woods, David Boreanaz And The Rachel Uchitel Rumour

A GALLERIES

